Human nature is always looking to divide over what they believe is most powerful

Petrine Gospel:
They loved any emphasis that brought back a more legalistic view of Christianity

4

Human nature is always looking to divide over what they believe is most powerful

Christ Gospel:
Perhaps they looked at all these other groups and pridefully said, "We're pure. We follow Christ."

5

Human nature seems to enjoy emphasizing the messenger above the message

What is at the heart of division is the desire to define my life by something other than Christ

6

The wisdom of God repudiates division

- God hides His power in weak people
- God hides His power in weak preaching

7

God surprises the world by displaying His power through weakness
